THE MEMORIAL HALL

Official Action of the National G. A. R. Encampment at Boston.

Decorative Welcome and Victory—Honors Conferred—Incidents of the Fight for the Prize.

A Working Committee that labored gallantly to Advertise Decorator and to Capture the National Memorial Hall.

Yes, "Decorators" are on top. The Republican announced the fact on Thursday last in the telegram from Major Steele, and the next day the glad news that Decorator had secured the endorsement of the Encampment for the National Memorial Hall was confirmed in a telegram from Comrade Cloyd. All of our readers felt good over the welcome intelligence. To-day the REPUBLICAN is enabled to give fuller details of the victory, with the official action of the Encampment, as obtained in an interview with Comrade C. M. Imboden, member of the committee, who arrived from Boston this morning.

THE WORKERS.

The Decorator committee at Boston working for the National Memorial Hall were John A. Barnes, chairman; G. R. Steele, secretary; M. F. Kanan, W. C. Johns, J. M. Cloyd, C. M. Imboden, C. Harwood, H. F. May, F. M. Young, J. P. Lytle, R. J. Roberts, Dr. B. F. Sibley, with George Betzer, James Withgott, John A. Brown, J. F. Steele, Hart P. Christie, C. M. Durfee, James Hughes, I. A. Beckingham and others in the ranks. The committee had their headquarters at the Brunswick hotel, one of the finest hotels in Boston and there the Encampment committee on resolutions had their headquarters and meeting Wednesday night, when the claims of Decorator were formally presented in the following resolution prepared by Comrades Johns and Cloyd:

WHEREAS, in twenty-four years the Grand Army has not established any permanent repository for its records, trophies and mementoes, nor taken any steps to perpetuate its memory of its heroic deeds;

WHEREAS, the organization cannot exist longer than the lives of the soldiers of the United States, and the records of its heroic deeds, taken up by the representatives of the Grand Army of the Republic, and the trophies of the war which belong to organizations and individuals;

AND WHEREAS, that there shall be established by the Grand Army of the Republic a National Memorial Hall, in which there shall be stored and preserved the official records of the Encampment, Decorator and Post, and the trophies of the war which belong to organizations and individuals;

AND WHEREAS, that in order to create a fund for the erection and endowment of such a structure, the annual dues of the members of the Grand Army of the Republic in each Post shall be in addition to the dues of the members of the Grand Army of the Republic, and the money raised by such increase of dues shall be placed in the hands of trustees appointed by the Grand Army of the Republic, and the said trustees shall have the duty of investing the same in bonds and other securities, and of paying the interest thereon to the fund for the erection and endowment of the National Memorial Hall;

AND WHEREAS, that the Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic be and he is hereby instructed to appoint a committee on Memorial Hall, to be composed of representatives of the Grand Army of the Republic, to report the plans for the erection, maintenance and permanent endowment of such Memorial Hall;

The foregoing resolutions were placed in the hands of Hon. Horace S. Clark, of Mattoon, the committee member from Illinois and in Comrade Clark Decorator had a strong champion.

ENDORSEMENT.

The committee considered the claims of Decorator, and recommended the project of the erection of the Memorial Hall at Decatur, Ill., the birth place of the order, and that the necessary fund be provided by voluntary contributions. This recommendation was heartily adopted by the Encampment in session on Wednesday.

AN OVERTURE.

General Palmer, of New York, chairman of the committee on resolutions, after reading the report of the committee to the Encampment, referred to the fact that the first Post was organized at Decatur, Ill., and that several of its charter members were present and had in their possession the first charter ever issued. He also stated that Comrades M. F. Kanan and George R. Steele, the first Post Commander and the first Post Adjutant, were among the members present, and requested them to take seats upon the platform. Calls were made for them and while they made their way to the platform they were greeted with much applause. After the platform had been reached, some delegates on the floor proposed three cheers for the two comrades, which were given with a hearty good will. After which Commander-in-Chief Alger, on behalf of the Encampment, shook them by the hand and gave them seats by his side. The entire committee had seats on the floor of the Encampment and received every consideration that could be hoped for.

The committee were noticing in their efforts to accomplish the mission that took them to Boston, and feel that the object has been accomplished.

Decorative papers containing articles on our city were freely distributed, and on Wednesday morning when the Encampment delegates began to assemble the G. A. R. pamphlets were generously distributed. Decorator has never before been so thoroughly and effectively advertised.

Several members of the committee were informed that if they should fail in getting what they wanted they certainly had made a big stir and had informed Boston and the Encampment that there was a city named Decatur in Illinois and that it was the birthplace of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The ten gentlemen from Decatur, who composed the Memorial Hall Committee, in uniform, were in the parade and covered the entire line of march. The silk banner which they carried, on which was inscribed "First Post G. A. R., Decatur, Ill.," organized April 6, '66," attracted much attention, and many were the complimentary remarks made by the populace as they recognized the full import of the fact.

The committee had comfortable and commodious quarters at the Hotel Brunswick and received numerous visitors and distinguished callers, among them being

U. R. Alger and Mrs. Gen. Logan. Subsequently the committee returned the calls and paid their respects to Mrs. Alger and Mrs. Logan, junior.

Boston is a delightful city to visit, affording the visitor an opportunity to see many places of historic interest, etc.

The citizens of Boston were lavish in their hospitality to the Grand Army, leaving nothing undone that would aid in the least to their comfort or enjoyment. Residents would go out of their way and neglect business to extend courtesies.

The Encampment was the largest ever assembled in the United States; 40,000 men participated in the parade. The procession was six hours and twenty minutes passing the reviewing stand on which stood President Harrison, members of the Cabinet—Tracy, Rusk and Noble.

Commander-in-Chief R. A. Alger and Gen. Ben. F. Butler reviewed the parade from another stand.

COMING TO DECATUR.

A resolution was adopted by the Encampment directing the incoming chief officers to take the necessary steps for the proper observance of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Grand Army, which is to be celebrated in Decatur, the birthplace of the order, April 6, 1861, on which occasion the annual meetings of the Illinois Department, and the Sons of Veterans will be held in Decatur.

Commander-in-Chief Veszy has been invited to be present, together with other National officers, and they will be here; also General Alger and other notables.

The silver anniversary, when it is hoped that ground will be broken for the National Memorial Hall, will be a National event in G. A. R. history, and Decorator will be taxed to the limit to entertain the thousands of visitors. Citizens will have to throw open their doors.

WHAT DECATUR WILL DO.

In order to get the Memorial Hall enterprise in proper shape, a National Memorial Hall Association will be formed, under the laws of Illinois, and steps will be taken at once to raise the money by contributions from the members of the Grand Army throughout the country.

BOSTON NOTES.

In the parade the Decorator committee wore crystalline uniforms on the laps of their blue coats, the flowers having been presented by Mrs. K. Harwood.

During the meeting Mayor Kanan was introduced at the Brunswick Hotel to an Eastern veteran as the commander of the first G. A. R. post. The old soldier at once took off his hat, stepped back a pace or two to get a good look at the captain, and then exclaimed: "Comrade, do you know what that means? I do. It means that you are the daddy of all these boys and all that are here."

The remainder of the Decorator committee will arrive home this week. A few to-morrow or to-night and the others will come along with colors flying as they get through with their visits with friends in the Eastern States.

M. F. Kanan, G. R. Steele and Dr. Sibley the only survivors of the first post at Boston. Captain Riebaum of Bloomington and Captain Bishop of Pennsylvania, were not there, neither was L. N. Coltrin of Decatur, who put in his time in the Republican composing room.

The next National Encampment will be held at Detroit.

Candidate for Treasurer.

In another column will be found the announcement of Captain Harvey W. Mahonah, who is in the field as a candidate for county treasurer, subject to the decision of the Republican convention.

The captain is a man of the people, a workman, and a sterling Republican. Everybody knows Harvey as an exemplary citizen and a genial companion, and the fact that he was twice elected township collector by large majorities proves his popularity with the people. He was a gallant soldier in the rebellion, serving as lieutenant of Company G, 110th regiment, being promoted to captain. He was in several notable battles and was with Sherman in the march to the sea. Captain Mahonah is a strong candidate before the convention, and if nominated will be triumphantly elected. That he will faithfully perform the duties of treasurer goes without saying.

Sneak Thieves Arrested.

Sunday was a lively time for residents of the Second ward. J. M. Erhman and Elmer Nichols caught a young man named James Smith prowling around F. M. Moore's house on West North street, and they chased him across lots toward the railroad. Forty or fifty men joined in the pursuit. The fellow disappeared. He crawled into E. T. Seger's barn and climbed the surrey where Mr. Seger found him. He came down and offered no resistance when the crowd gathered about him. Erhman and Nichols brought the fellow to the E. A. Casman residence from which police Marshal Mason was summoned by telephone to take charge of the prisoner. He did so. It was discovered this morning that Smith was seen crawling out of a window at the George E. Knight residence Sunday, and the prisoner will answer that charge in Justice Curtis' court to-morrow morning.

Charles Roberts, a noted character, was arrested Sunday for burglary at the home of Mr. Stevens on South Fifth street Saturday. He is in jail. Roberts is the man who was held at Litchfield one year ago on the charge of murder. He was not indicted.

Will Leave on Thursday.

The Rev. C. H. Steen, who has been the able and scholarly pastor for the A. M. E. church two years, delivered his farewell sermon Sunday evening in the presence of a very large congregation, which included many white friends of the gifted clergyman. Rev. Steen's text was the 96th verse of the 113th Psalm, "I have seen an end of all perfection, but thy commandment is exceeding broad." The best wishes of the church membership and the people generally go with Rev. Steen to his new charge at Cairo, Ill. To-night there will be a farewell entertainment for the late pastor and his family at the church. Rev. Steen will leave for Cairo on Thursday.

JAMES SIMPSON, aged 55 years, died Saturday night at his home in Wheatland township of droupy. The funeral took place to-day at 1 o'clock from Shady Grove church.

SATURDAY EVENING Lou Chadot, the newsboy, had a thrilling experience. He made an effort to jump on the front step of a Wabash switch engine which was approaching him. He fell between the rails and the engine passed over his body in a dash, but surprising to state, Chadot was not injured. His coat was torn, that's all.

The National colors were adopted by Congress in 1777. The beautiful, rich, creamy color, so desirable for ladies' complexion, can be secured by using Cole's Carbolic Soap. It cleans, invigorates and purifies the skin.
